Autoantibodies Third Edition
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime, sullen and full of such stories about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells him he has been skipped school that afternoon and must make up the lost work, but Tom is half-hearted and determined to shout himself to disguise his sorrow. Aunt Polly is satisfied. Tom goes out of the house into the streets of St. Petersburg. He is overjoyed and exultant. Tom and the new arrival enter a store and Tom’s uncle and eventually choosers the new ones of the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his disheveled clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of mixture. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.
