The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom's mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time. His mother and sister are surprised to see him. "Well, well, well!" says Aunt Polly, "You've been skipping school that afternoon and went running with the boys."

The next day Tom goes out to whiten the fence. While Tom is at work, Aunt Polly makes a pot of peach compote and leaves it on the stove, but Tom tastes it. Aunt Polly is satisfied, but Tom's half-brother, Huck, visits the house and Tom warns him to stay away.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whiten the fence. Tom sees a man pass by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitening in return for a "white alley," a kind of marble. The man almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases Tom off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.

Tom comes home at suppertime and tells Aunt Polly about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly is told about his adventures. Tom has skipped school that afternoon and went instead to a place where the boys are always brawling. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom and his new arrival friend are treated to a performance of a play. Tom and his new arrival friend are indeed enchanted and eventually chase the performers all the way home.

Keratoconus is a common corneal disorder where the central or paracentral cornea undergoes progressive thinning and steepening causing irregular astigmatism.

Salzmann's nodular degeneration (SND) is a slowly progressive condition in which gray-white to bluish nodules measuring 1-3 mm are seen anterior to Bowman's layer of the cornea, usually bilaterally. These elevated nodules can be located near the limbus or in the mid-peripheral cornea. Etiology

Although guinea pigs are sensitive and susceptible to the development of lesions from a wide range of viruses, bacteria, protozoa, and parasites, only a small number of organisms cause natural infection and only a portion of that group cause clinical disease.
