Introduction To Clinical Pharmacology Text And Study Guide Package 6e
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered in jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom's mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom goes out the house to look for Tom. He finds Tom in the room, sitting in a chair with a big book in his hand about an adventure. Dressed up, Tom is telling a tale to the boys. "I'll be whipped if I don't," he says. "I've been to New York and even saw a man on a horse!" Tom is not to be stopped, and the boys are excited. They run out of the house and follow Tom.

Tom comes home at supper time and tells his aunt what he has done about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly is satisfied, and Tom gets the news that he will not be skipped school that afternoon and won’t be punished for tomorrow. The good news makes Tom feel good, and he is happy to have his aunt’s satisfaction.

The next day, Tom goes out of the house to wash the fence. He is supposed to do it in the morning, but he decides to do it later. Tom washes the fence and eventually cleans the area all the way down.
