The Psychological Management Of Chronic Pain A Treatment Manual Second Edition
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper and tells Aunt Polly about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly announces Tom will be skipped school that afternoon so he can work in the garden. Tom’s textbooks are still on the table, but Sadie, Tom’s half-brother, has removed them to disguise his absence. Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom goes out of the house to work in the garden while Aunt Polly is in the kitchen. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom finds the new arrival of the barge, and eventually chooses the newcomer as his new friend.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jon passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of nickname. Jon almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.

After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects nastily on Tom's mischievousness and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime and can't stop boasting about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly is satisfied, and Tom's half-brother, Huck, is the butt of Tom's jokes, which are often cruel and mean. Tom boasts about his latest adventure, which was skipping school that afternoon and going to a nearby town. When Aunt Polly asks about his clothes, Tom claims they are still on the line, but in reality, they are still on the line. Tom has sworn to himself to dispose of his clothes in the river to avoid punishment.
